For a Machinedrum I will trade Korg Er1, Korg Ea1 and a DrumKAT DK10 with pedals and stand. Reply if interested.

I own both those electribes and they are not even close for a trade with the MD.

a DrumKAT DK10 goes for $574 the Hatpedal goes for $209 and the Fatpedal $179 the stand is $98 mounting braket $15. Lets say the electribes for a good 300 (150 each). All is in good condition (especially the DK10). Add up the price of all included, comes to a total of $1,375 USD. That is a $165 value over the cost of a new Machinedrum. Its a fair deal. The drumKAT is sick especially with good acoustic drum librarys like Drumkit From Hell Superior or BFD.....also been using it with Battery, Attack and the Redrum for sometime, just like to change up the way I work and have wanted a MD for a long time for live performance purposes. Anywho anyone interested reply back and I will contact you.
