damn son! you're on a freakin' gear binge! might want to see someone or join a group ;-) nah, seriously congrats on the recent SID. i'm just taken aback by all your purchases of late.

I went from an all computer set-up...where I had alot of software...to hating software...and wanting to go hardware...so now I have to buy it all at once. Luckily...I had a good bonus at work and have alot of overtime available. I'll be slowing down soon though...unless NAMM bamboozles me.

same here.. no more soft synth.. I am actually going portable. Consoles are fun coz u carry them anywhere and as soon as u have 5 mins, u boot and there you go. My ideal is to get that as a notepad then mix in the puter. That stays easier.
