well, the OS 2.0 update added a lot of features which make it a more capable machine than the 2000 and pretty close to the 2500.

actually, now that you mention it i think i remember seeing some screenshots of a custom OS that a user from japan was working on. can't remember what it did exactly though...
