
Call for submissions

Posted by we88 - 2013/08/12 09:09

Clan Analogue have put a call out for submissions for a couple of compilations that we are putting together for release either later this year.

details here

I know the Elektron community has some mad skills and I think the call-out brief fits what some of you are into. I'm especially curious what a nimble brain and an OT can produce for the Intone project Clan Analogue has a long history as an electronic music/culture collective (20 years) and has a recording arm that puts out occasional releases and compilations - the last was ;-)

Anyway - happy to hear your thoughts etc .
