Hello all !

Do you think is better to have 2 OT or 1 OT + a MD UW ?

Any suggestion much appreciated :)

Unless you really want synthesis, the OT sequencer is nicer IMO.

The OT can be a great drum machine. I would personally love 2

One of each! :cheer:

I'll always pick variety first.

The OT is my deserted island piece of gear. The MDUW has a certain je ne sais quoi about it.

I sold my MDUW to finance a second OT, no regrets.

OT + MD

MD does percussions and drums in a way that the OT just can't do.

It has 16 tracks of percussive sounds that you can P-lock in a variety of ways that the OT is not designed for. You could even get a UW version and don't feel like you're doing the same things as on a OT.

Besides.. it's a classic!

:laugh:

ps. Love the OT as well! I got one as long as an A4.

Strangely enough, the OT right now does only wacky samples manipulation of "outer" source material (Kaoss, iPad, Radio and found sounds): no drums, no synths.

i just sold my MD SPS 1 MK 2

And I think i am going to buy a second OT.

I will have then 2 OT, 1 MNM, 1 303, 1 MOPHO and an IPAD as a midi controller.....

Loose my time to create a kick ?

I can have the best kick on tape from the best drum machine ever on the OT if I need....

And no more laptop then !

I'm with chad@pa on this: OT + MD, variety; I don't think I own two of a kind of any gear! Even my cojones are a little different and unique :laugh:

MD + OT...for sure

Would be my advice..

OT can be used as drummachine, but is not as straightforward as the MD

But it also depends on other gear you own....OT can control everything...but again you need to program also a lot..and know what your doing..MD is great to use as live instrument and straightforward..I love it..

I had both of them.....

I prefer 2 OT, more creative and no laptop :laugh:
